

Scripture

1 They came to the other side of the sea, to the country of the Gerasenes. 2 And when Jesus had stepped out of the boat, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit. 3 He lived among the tombs. And no one could bind him anymore, not even with a chain, 4 for he had often been bound with shackles and chains, but he wrenched the chains apart, and he broke the shackles in pieces. No one had the strength to subdue him. 5 Night and day among the tombs and on the mountains he was always crying out and cutting himself with stones. 6 And when he saw Jesus from afar, he ran and fell down before him. 7 And crying out with a loud voice, he said, “What have you to do with me, Jesus, Son of the Most High God? I adjure you by God, do not torment me.” 8 For he was saying to him, “Come out of the man, you unclean spirit!” 9 And Jesus asked him, “What is your name?” He replied, “My name is Legion, for we are many.” 10 And he begged him earnestly not to send them out of the country. 11 Now a great herd of pigs was feeding there on the hillside, 12 and they begged him, saying, “Send us to the pigs; let us enter them.” 13 So he gave them permission. And the unclean spirits came out and entered the pigs; and the herd, numbering about two thousand, rushed down the steep bank into the sea and drowned in the sea. 14 The herdsmen fled and told it in the city and in the country. And people came to see what it was that had happened. 15 And they came to Jesus and saw the demon-possessed man, the one who had had the legion, sitting there, clothed and in his right mind, and they were afraid. 16 And those who had seen it described to them what had happened to the demon-possessed man and to the pigs. 17 And they began to beg Jesus to depart from their region. 18 As he was getting into the boat, the man who had been possessed with demons begged him that he might be with him. 19 And he did not permit him but said to him, “Go home to your friends and tell them how much the Lord has done for you, and how he has had mercy on you.” 20 And he went away and began to proclaim in the Decapolis how much Jesus had done for him, and everyone marveled. Week 5

Discussion Questions

Icebreaker: Is there anything in your life that feels like it's holding you captive? How can you bring that to Jesus and experience his liberating power?

Point 1: Demons fear the authority of Jesus

- The demons recognize Jesus immediately. Why do you think even demonic beings acknowledge his authority? How does this contrast with how some people in Jesus's time reacted to him?
- How does Jesus's confrontation with the demonic in this story relate to the spiritual battles we face in our own lives today? What "demons" or "legions" might we struggle against?
- Have you ever witnessed or experienced a situation that felt like a spiritual battle? How did you respond, or how do you think we should respond in such situations?

Point 2: Demons fear the presence of Jesus

- The man who was healed wants to follow Jesus, but Jesus tells him to go home and tell his family and community about what God has done for him. Why do you think Jesus gives him this specific commission?
- How does the formerly demon-possessed man's obedience to Jesus's command demonstrate the transformative power of encountering Christ? What evidence of transformation is there in the story?

Point 3: Demons fear the mission of Jesus

- Are there areas in your life where you've experienced God's liberation? How are you sharing that experience with others? If you haven't shared it, what might be holding you back?
- What practical steps can we take to be more intentional about sharing our stories of God's work in our lives?
